

ARKLE
COURT

CHELTENHAM'S MOST CENTRAL RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT

Arkle Court is located in Cheltenham's historic St Paul's district, opposite the thriving Brewery Quarter leisure and retail hub.

Described as the most complete Regency town in England, Cheltenham's wonderful architecture and history saw it boom as a spa town in the late 1800s.

For example, Pittville Park – with its magnificent Pump Rooms and lakes – is just one of many central attractions that are only a short walk from this prime development.

With vehicular, pedestrian and cycle access from North Place, Arkle Court's 72 one and two bedroom apartments will offer refined, contemporary living in a location oozing with elegance and convenience.

A SUSTAINABLE NEW COMMUNITY

Cheltenham was ranked as the second best place to live in England by the Sunday Times in 2025. The town was especially noted for its low NHS waiting times and quality schooling.

Arkle Court has been designed by nationally acclaimed architects Glancy Nicholls to complement the town's Regency architecture and create a sustainable new community in the heart of Cheltenham. The elegant four-storey apartment building will offer enviable views onto landscaped open space and across the historic townscape.

Extending to over 3.5-acres, this outstanding new residential scheme will include pocket parks, with opportunities for public art installations to be created as part of the Cheltenham Paint Festival.

GREEN LIVING

The apartments are being carefully constructed to keep residents' energy consumption and carbon emissions to a minimum.

Eco-focused features will include:

-  Enhanced levels of insulation and air tightness
-  Solar PV panels
-  Enriched open spaces promoting wildlife habitats and enhanced biodiversity
-  Water saving technology

A WORLD RENOWNED REGENCY TOWN

Cheltenham is one of the UK's most affluent towns with high average incomes and quality residential stock. Idyllic squares and a bustling high street with designer retail and restaurants, coupled with excellent parks and gardens boasting bandstands and boating lakes – are on the doorstep of Arkle Court.

Vibrant events

With pavement cafes, antiques shops and fashion boutiques, plus a host of cultural and sporting festivals, the town has a distinctly cosmopolitan atmosphere. The biggest event is the well-known horse racing festival in March, but there are also highly popular celebrations of literature, jazz, science and classical music throughout the year.

Exceptional schools

Cheltenham enjoys an international reputation for the quality of its schooling. There are the iconic institutions of Cheltenham College and Cheltenham Ladies' College, Pate's Grammar and Ofsted-Outstanding Rated Balcarras Academy, plus Dean Close, which caters to boarding and day pupils aged 2-18 years.

EXCELLENT TRANSPORT LINKS

By Road

Cheltenham's strategic location and excellent transport links make it an ideal base for professionals who need access to larger urban centres. The town is just eight miles – via the A40 – from Gloucester and 35 miles – via the A417 – from Swindon. The M5 takes you south west to Bristol, which is 40 miles away, or by heading north, you'll reach Birmingham in 50 miles.

By Rail

Cheltenham Spa train station provides direct access to major cities and towns. Worcester Shrub Hill is reached in just 22 minutes, while both Birmingham New Street and Bristol Temple Meads are only 38 minutes away. There are frequent services to London Paddington taking under two hours.

By Air

Both Birmingham International Airport and Bristol Airport are just over an hour from Cheltenham town centre, facilitating domestic and international air travel with ease and convenience.

Public Transport

Local public transport is efficient and well-connected, making travel within and beyond the town easy and convenient.

A TOWN GROWING IN APPEAL

Cheltenham is a town of outstanding statistics with an impressive regional economy. It also sets an exceptional benchmark for quality of life.

AMONG BEST LOCATIONS IN THE UK

Cheltenham ranked highly in a 2025 survey of the UK's best locations for work opportunities and jobs.

£40,025

The town's median annual salary for 2025 is £40,025.

£2.5-£3 billion

Cheltenham's economy is currently worth in the region of £2.5-£3 billion, yet is predicted to grow significantly over the next 10 years to upwards of £4.5 billion.

Double UK average

Forecasted population growth is set to be nearly double the UK average, which is likely to see property prices soar.

70,000 jobs

The Regency town supports over 70,000 jobs in a range of industries including cyber-tech, aerospace, engineering, professional services, retail/leisure, health, education and public administration.

High profile HQs

Including GCHQ, Superdry and Spirax-Sarco. There is also an exceptionally strong representation from digital and tech based firms including Google, Microsoft and Apple all present in the town.

Cyber superhub

The town's famed cyber superhub and burgeoning tech sector is anchored by the government's GCHQ and its supply chains. Cheltenham's cyber cluster is the largest outside of London – 11 times the UK average – with the town uniquely positioned to become the UK's cyber capital.

House price growth

Cheltenham has seen some of the highest house price growth in the area over recent years and there is strong demand across all property types and tenures.

THE FESTIVAL TOWN

Cheltenham's world-famous, year-round events programme includes 35 festivals and counting! There's fun, food, sport and culture galore, with activities and spectacles for all ages.

PARKS AND LEISURE

Cheltenham is blessed with tree-lined Promenades and stunning parks and gardens. The Promenade has been named as one of the top five shopping streets in the UK, due to the number and variety of independent shops and boutique retailers, alongside stalwarts John Lewis and Primark.

In addition to The Prom and The High Street, you can also enjoy café culture, fine dining and shop 'til you drop throughout the up market districts of Bath Road, Montpellier, and The Suffolks.

The Promenade and Long Gardens

Cheltenham's famous Promenade dates back to 1818, at the height of the Regency period, when the avenue of elms and horse chestnut trees was first planted.

Sandford Park

The Italian Gardens have a sunken pool and fountains, while there are informative plaques next to the herbs and edible plants growing in the community garden to encourage people to help themselves.

Winston Churchill Memorial Garden

This small urban park is tucked behind the Lower High Street shops. The gardens have a number of historical elements such as the formal rose garden, pergola, clipped yew avenue and St Mary's Mission building.

Pittville Park

Opened in 1825, this is the largest ornamental park in Cheltenham and features the magnificent Grade I Pump Room and lakes.

Montpellier Gardens

The bandstand on the broadwalk has regular concerts during the summer months and the Gardens are used as a venue to support the town's many festivals including the Literature, Jazz, Science and Music Festivals.

Cleeve Hill

Cleeve Hill is on the way to Winchcombe, affording breath-taking views of Cheltenham and the surrounding area. At 330m / 1,083ft above sea level it is the highest point in Gloucestershire and is also the highest peak of the Cotswold Hills.

A RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPER WITH RICH HISTORY

Wavensmere Homes' passion for authenticity and transformative regeneration developments has resulted in a glowing national reputation. We specialise in high-specification renovation and redevelopment projects, the sensitive conversion of historic sites, and developments where classic architecture has been brought back to its former glory.

Our rich expertise in traditional craftsmanship means we understand the importance of fine detail and quality. Our team of specialists reinvent iconic properties, preserving their history for generations to come. With an extensive portfolio of residential and mixed-use ventures throughout the UK, our passion is turning derelict sites into living landmarks.

Wavensmere Homes is currently delivering the final phase of the £175m Nightingale Quarter, located off London Road within Derby city centre. The £112m Belgrave Village development is delivering 438 energy-efficient houses and apartments in central Birmingham – on a brownfield site that was vacant for 20 years. Located on the Shotley Peninsula, close to Ipswich, the £130m Barrelman's Point scheme is reanimating the former HMS Ganges naval base, delivering around 300 premium houses in the process.

Friar Gate Goods Yard in Derby city centre is a Grade II Listed landmark that stood vacant for over 50 years, where Wavensmere is delivering an inspiring £75m mixed-use redevelopment.

In north Derbyshire, we are constructing our £22m redevelopment of Milford Mills, which overlooks the River Derwent, located between Belper and Duffield. 69 new homes are being delivered on the historic site, which is within the Derwent Valley Mills UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Fronting onto two stretches of canal and within moments of the city's transport interchange, we are also onsite constructing Wolverhampton Canalside South, which will deliver over 530 houses, apartments and co-living properties.

Elsewhere in Derby city centre, we will be delivering 195 beautiful apartments on a prime Cathedral Quarter riverside site, off Full Street.
